

THURSDAY, JUNE 13

10:00am–5:00pm Registration

10:00am–5:00pm Book Exhibit

9:30am–11:00am Past Presidents Brunch

10:00am–11:00am International Members Coffee Klatch

11:30am–1:00pm Session I

Panel 1: Blueprints of Empire: Underexplored Actors and Nation-Building in the Greater Caribbean

Sponsored by SHAFR's Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE)

Chair and Comment: Justin Jackson, Bard College at Simons Rock

Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Engineering American Empire in the Circum-Caribbean, 1898-1929

Graydon Dennison, Yale University

Landed Filibusters: U.S. Citizen-Settlers and the Occupation of Panama's Interior, 1914-1927

Micah Wright, Lincoln University

The Origins of the Third Way: Puerto Rican Nationalism and Latin American Anti-Imperialism in the 1930s

Ian Seavey, Yale University

Redefining Relief: The Changing Idea of Disaster and the Puerto Rican New Deal, 1933-1941

Panel 2: Reagan-Era Foreign Policy

Chair and Comment: Lisa Namikas, Baton Rouge Community College

Laila Ballout, Wichita State University

Lebanon and Human Rights in the Reagan Era

Nicholas Sarantakes, U.S. Naval War College

World War III in 1983: The Reagan Administration and The Day After

Panel 3: Negotiating National Interests and International Commitments: American Science and Medicine in Global Rivalries

Chair and Comment: Greg Whitesides, University of Colorado, Denver

Paul Rubinson, Bridgewater State University

The Pursuit of Scientific Justice: Vladimir Ipatieff and the U.S.-Soviet Rivalry of the 1930s

Theresa Keeley, University of Louisville

Forced Benevolence: U.S. Government Support for U.S., not Foreign, Doctors Aiding Napalm-Burned Children

Anna Doel, Independent Scholar

The Bison Skeleton in the Mail: How American and Soviet Scientists Kept in Touch from the 1960s to the 1980s

Panel 4: Wretched Hives of Scum and Villainy? The Peripheral Cities of World War II

Chair: Brooke Blower, Boston University

Ruth Lawlor, Cornell University

Alaska at the Center of the World: The American Imperial Periphery in the Global Second World War

Elisabeth Leake, Tufts University

Casablanca of the Hindu Kush? Kabul and the "Graveyard of Empires" in World War II

Weiyu Dang, New York University

Paradigmatic Settlers in Northwestern China: Lanzhou and the Frontier of U.S. Liberal Internationalism in WWII

Comment: Jason Parker, Texas A&M University

Panel 5: Out of the Shadows: New Approaches to Intelligence History

Chair and Comment: Kaeten Mistry, University of East Anglia

Jeff Rogg, Joint Special Operations University

"The Mischief of Foreign Intrigue" and the Making of the First Party System

Deborah Bauer, Purdue University, Fort Wayne

Espionage, Emotions, and the Law in the Case of an American Diplomat in French Colonial Madagascar

Susan Perlman, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

How Intelligence Becomes Policy: Rightist Factions and U.S. Intelligence in Postwar France

Hugh Wilford, California State University, Long Beach

Covert Empire: The Imperial History of the CIA

Panel 6: Roundtable: Explaining the History of American Foreign Relations

Chair: Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut

Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University

Ryan Irwin, University at Albany, SUNY

Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University

Kristin Oberiano, Wesleyan University

Panel 7: Roundtable: Making the Military Work

Chair: Naoko Shibusawa, Brown University

Amy Chin, Vassar College

Patrick Chung, University of Maryland, College Park

Karen Miller, LaGuardia Community College and City University of New York

Colleen Woods, University of Maryland, College Park

Panel 8: Treat Yourself: A Roundtable on the Use (and Misuse) of Inter-Polity Agreements in Early America

Chair: Dael Norwood, University of Delaware

Heesoo Cho, Washington University, St. Louis

Rachel Herrmann, Cardiff University

Jessica Roney, Temple University

1:00pm–1:20pm Refreshment Break

Sponsored by the Bill Graham Centre for Contemporary International History

1:20pm–2:50pm Session II

Panel 9: International Ike: New Directions in Eisenhower Studies

Chair and Comment: Nicholas Sarantakes, U.S. Naval War College

Joanne Archibald, Queen's University

Uncle Louis + Ike: Building the Canada-U.S. Defence Relationship in the 1950s

Jacklyn Majnemer, London School of Economics

Patterns of Foreign Nuclear Deployment: Understanding Host State Refusal

Christoph Huber, Ludwig Boltzmann Institute for Research on Consequences of War

The Eisenhower Administration's View on Austrian-Soviet Trade

Panel 10: Hidden Histories of Wartime and Postwar Cultural Exchange

Chair and Comment: Scott Laderman, University of Minnesota, Duluth

Sara Fieldston, Seton Hall University

"The Buying-est Soldier in the World": GI Tourism during World War II

Diana Lemberg, University of St. Andrews

The Transnational Renewal of Bilingual Education in the United States, 1945-1968

Michael Stamm, Michigan State University

Sweetness and Media: The Promise of Sugarcane Paper for the Developing World during the Cold War

Panel 11: U.S. Sanctions and the World

Chair and Comment: Mario Del Pero, Sciences Po

Philip Thai, Northeastern University

American Technology for Chinese Communists: The Case of Antibiotics Exports through Cold War Hong Kong

Augusta Dell’Omo, Southern Methodist University

The Anti-Sanction International: The Movement against the Comprehensive Anti-Apartheid Act, 1980-1986

Flavia Canestrini, LUISS Guido Carli

Navigating Hegemony in a Globalized Economy: U.S. Extraterritoriality and the Case of Dresser France in 1982

Benjamin Coates, Wake Forest University

The Office of Foreign Assets Control and the Absurd Logic of U.S. Sanctions, 1950-1970

Panel 12: Lightning Round: Commerce and Conquest in the Age of Imperialism

Chair: Brian Etheridge, Kennesaw State University

Kim Jackson, University of Colorado, Boulder

Moral Obligation to Our Farmers: American Food Aid during World War I

Robert Diaz, University of Michigan

The Growing Years: Lifecycle, Development, and American Imperialism in the Colonial Philippines, 1899-1920

Alejandro Adame Basilio, University of St. Andrews

Poinsett, Diplomatic Interference, and the Myth of Poinsettismo in Mexico, 1825-1829

James Stocker, Trinity Washington University

Pathways to Possession: Transportation, Territory, and Sovereignty in U.S.-Cherokee Negotiations, 1801-1837

Jonas Anderson, Universität der Bundeswehr München

Imperial Free Riders: American Adventurers and European Colonial Rule in Africa

Panel 13: Transimperial Histories of Energy

Chair: Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University

Elizabeth Chatterjee, University of Chicago

Transimperialism after Empire? The “New Great Game” over Aid and Asian Power Stations, 1973–1992

Minseok Jang, University at Albany, SUNY

The Transimperial Origin of the U.S. Petroleum Industry

Trish Kahle, Georgetown University, Qatar

Imperial Seams in the Global Cold War: Bringing Coal back into the History of the Twentieth Century

Comment: Karine Walther, Georgetown University, Qatar

Panel 14: Roundtable: Diplomatic History and the Climate Emergency

Chair: Julia F. Irwin, Louisiana State University

Kurk Dorsey, University of New Hampshire
Astrid M. Eckert, Emory University
Victor McFarland, University of Missouri
Michael Franczak, International Peace Institute
Stephen Macekura, Indiana University

Panel 15: Roundtable: Edward Said and American Foreign Relations

Sponsored by SHAFR's Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE)

Chair: Melani McAlister, George Washington University

Arash Azizi, Clemson University
Sarah Gualtieri, University of Southern California
Alex Hobson, Wake Forest University
Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet, University of Pennsylvania
Paul Kramer, Vanderbilt University
Andrew Rotter, Colgate University

Panel 16: American Conservatives' Reactions and Perspectives on East Asian Affairs

Chair and Comment: Andrew Johnstone, University of Leicester

Brandon Willadsen, Texas A&M University
 Confrontation or Restraint? The Divergent Perspectives between Republican Hawks and Pragmatists on China and Taiwan
Jeffrey Crean, Tyler Junior College
 Détente's Discontents: Walter Judd Loses Tricky Dick
Paxton Stover, Kansas State University
 Anti-Communism and the "China Question": McCarthyism and U.S. Asian Policy in the Late 1940s through the 1950s

Panel 17: Fishbowl: New Studies of United States Empire

Moderator: Kariann Yokota, University of Colorado, Denver

Wendell Nii Laryea Adjetey, McGill University
Jilene Chua, Boston University
Kaysha Corinealdi, Emerson College
Kristin Oberiano, Wesleyan University
Joy Sales, California State University, Los Angeles

2:50pm–3:10pm Refreshment Break

3:10pm–4:40pm Session III

Panel 18: Roundtable: Teaching American Foreign Relations in Different Institutional Contexts

Sponsored by SHAFR's Teaching Committee

Chair: Kelly McFarland, Georgetown University

Brian Etheridge, Kennesaw State University

Justin Hart, Texas Tech University

Molly M. Wood, Wittenberg University

Panel 19: Roundtable: Collaborative Work: Why Historians Don't Do It Enough and How We Can Do It More and Better

Chair: Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University

Elisabeth Leake, Tufts University

Erez Manela, Harvard University

Heather Salter, Northeastern University

Panel 20: Intelligence and the Global Cold War: The CIA in Intellectual, Political, and Transnational Contexts

Chair: Andrew Preston, University of Cambridge

Alex Ferguson, University of Sheffield

"I Hate to Admit This, because He's a Real S.O.B., but What They Need There Is a Rhee": The Rhee Analogy, a Failed Coup, and the Origins of the U.S.-Diem Alliance, 1954-1955

Ronan Mainprize, University of Warwick

A World of Trouble: Lyndon Johnson, the CIA, and Crisis in the Global South

Brian Cuddy, Macquarie University

Truth or Reconciliation? Intelligence Inquiries and the Question of Public Trust, 1975-1985

Comment: Sarah-Jane Corke, University of New Brunswick

Panel 21: Roundtable: The U.S. Navy in the Pacific: Popular Reactions at Home and Abroad from Mahan to the Atomic Age

Chair: Dayna Barnes, National Defense University

Hal Friedman, Henry Ford College

Toshihiro Higuchi, Georgetown University

Jason W. Smith, Southern Connecticut State University

Panel 22: Fishbowl: Rethinking Histories of International Order

Moderator: Francine McKenzie, University of Western Ontario

Caroline Dunton, Queen's University
Cindy Ewing, University of Toronto
Dan Gorman, University of Waterloo
Samuel Helfont, Naval Postgraduate School
Jamie Martin, Harvard University
Lydia Walker, The Ohio State University

Panel 23: Roundtable: From Tourism to Activism: U.S.-Latin American Transnational Exchange in the Late Twentieth Century

Chair: María Cristina García, Cornell University

Jason G. Fontana, University of Miami
William C. Hogue, Fordham University
Ryan Metz, The Ohio State University

Panel 24: The Habitat of Empire: How Environments Shaped U.S. Power and Vice Versa

Chair and Comment: Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University

Dario Fazzi, Leiden University and Roosevelt Institute for American Studies
Flows of Power: The U.S. Empire and the Global Waters
Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University
The Combustible Environment of Settler Colonialism
Julia F. Irwin, Louisiana State University
Calamity and Contingency: Natural Hazards and U.S. Foreign Policy Planning in the Cold War World
Boyd Ruamcharoen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Deteriorating Relations, Enduring Power: U.S. Power and an Environmental History of Material Decay and Durability

Panel 25: Lightning Round: Recasting Africa in the American Century

Chair: Manna Duah, North Carolina Central University

Ayelet Marron, Rutgers University
American "Relief" in Occupied North Africa, WWII: Asserting a Moral Contract of Liberation in a French Colonial Space
Daniel Manulak, Harvard University
Angels and Demons: The African National Congress and its Struggle for Global Legitimacy
Miguel Bandeira Jeronimo, University of Coimbra

Development and the Politics of Interimperial and International Organizations in the 1950s

Margaret Gregory, Texas A&M University

The Rhodesian Information Office: A Worldwide Propaganda Campaign

Yonathan Teye, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Katanga's "Lost Cause": The U.S., the Congo, and White Internationalism in Africa, 1960–63

5:00pm–6:30pm Plenary

Using Canadian Archives to Write International and U.S. Foreign Relations History

Sponsored by SHAFR's Committee on Historical Documentation

Moderator: Grant Golub, U.S. Army War College

Discussants:

Susan Colbourn, Duke University

Lisa Komar, Historical Section at Global Affairs Canada

Francine McKenzie, Western University

Asa McKercher, Royal Military College of Canada

6:30pm–8:00pm Welcome Reception

FRIDAY, JUNE 14

8:00am–4:30pm Registration

8:00am–5:00pm Book Exhibit

8:00am–9:00am Breakfast

8:00am–9:00am Diplomatic History Editorial Board Breakfast

8:00am–9:00am Graduate Student Town Hall Breakfast

9:00am–10:00am Mini-Plenary

The U.S. Foreign Service at 100: Reflections from Practitioners and Historians

Moderator: Nicole M. Phelps, University of Vermont

Discussants:

Baxter Hunt, U.S. Consul General in Toronto

Harry W. Kopp, Writer and former FSO

Molly M. Wood, Wittenberg University

10:00am–10:15am Refreshment Break

10:15am–11:45am Session IV

Panel 26: Roundtable: The United States, Europe, and the Russia-Ukraine War

Chair: Peter Hahn, The Ohio State University

Mario Del Pero, Sciences Po

Simon Miles, Duke University

Andrew Preston, University of Cambridge

Alexandria Sukalo, Naval Postgraduate School

Panel 27: Fishbowl: New International Histories of the Sandinista Revolution

Moderator: Michelle Chase, Pace University

Hilary Francis, Northumbria University

Mateo Jarquín, Chapman University

David Johnson Lee, Rutgers University

Eline van Ommen, University of Leeds

Gerardo Sánchez Nateras, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas
Emily Snyder, University of Cambridge

Panel 28: Incompetent Imperialists: Failures and Fraudsters in the Making of America's Early Empire

Chair and Comment: Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Konstantin Dierks, Indiana University

White Colonizationists, Black Emigrationists, and Imperial Dreams in Antebellum America

Lindsay Schakenbach Regele, Miami University

An Inauspicious Start to Putting the Monroe Doctrine into Practice: Joel Roberts Poinsett in Mexico, 1825-1830

Brian Rouleau, Texas A&M University

Killing Mr. Renton, or, How to Turn a Murder into an International Incident

Panel 29: Roundtable: Veterans, Environmentalists, and Urban Activists: International Organizations in the Late Twentieth Century

Chair: David Milne, University of East Anglia

Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Sarah Miller-Davenport, Columbia University

Shaul Mitelpunkt, University of York

Panel 30: Science, Security, and the State: Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Origin of the Scientific-Technological Elite

Chair and Comment: Stephen Buono, University of Chicago

Benjamin Wilson, Harvard University

The Concealment of Conflict: Eisenhower's Scientific-Technological Elite, Defense Contracting, and Strategic Arms Control Policy

Richard V. Damms, Mississippi State University, Meridian

The Ubiquitous "Dr." Killian: Science-Statesmanship in the Eisenhower Era

Michael Schaefer, Washington University in St. Louis

Fear of a "Scientific-Technological Elite": Current Concerns in Light of Eisenhower's Initial Conception

Zoe Mason, University of Toronto

Objectivity, Outer Space, and the Scientific-Technological Elite

Panel 31: Hidden Histories of Canadian-American International Cooperation, 1940-1970

Chair and Comment: Michael Stevenson, Lakehead University

Katherine Rossy, Royal Military College of Canada

A Forgotten Partnership: Canadian-American Cooperation and Early U.N.
Humanitarianism in the Post-War World, 1943-1947

Asa McKercher, Royal Military College of Canada

“We’re in for a Sticky Time”: Lester B. Pearson and the Dilemmas of American Power

Kevin Brushett, Royal Military College of Canada

“Behind the Canadians All the Way?” Canadian-American Cooperation on Foreign Assistance during the First Development Decade

Panel 32: Diplomatic Encounters and Public Perceptions: Cold War Politics between the U.S., PRC, and Korean Peninsula

Chair and Comment: Gregg Brazinsky, George Washington University

Anatol Klass, University of California, Berkeley

“The Peking Formula”: International Law, the United Nations, and Chinese Sovereignty during the Korean War

Emily Matson, Georgetown University

Complicity and the Cold War: The Long Shadow of Unit 731 in Sino-U.S. Relations

Mina Lee, University of Virginia

Atoms for What?: The United States’ Scientific Internationalism and South Korean Developmentalism

Panel 33: Cuisine and Diplomacy: History of American Foreign Relations through Food, 1869-1965

Chair and Comment: Sarah B. Snyder, American University

Lucy E. Salyer, University of New Hampshire

Nations at the Table: Food and Foreign Relations, 1869-1900

Heather Ruth Lee, New York University, Shanghai

Gastrodiplomacy: A Case for Non-State Actors

R. Alexander Orquiza, Providence College

“The Hiker”: Re-casting America’s First War for Empire Abroad

Audrey Russek, University of California, Davis

Tabling Civil Rights: Restaurants, Racial Discrimination, and U.S. Cold War Foreign Policy

Panel 34: Lightning Round: The Human Costs of Cold War Order

Chair: Michael Cude, Schreiner University

Audrius Rickus, University of Virginia

Facing the Polycrisis of the 1970s: France's Pursuit of an Equitable Postcolonial
International Economy

José Pedro Monteiro, University of Minho

A Contested Concept: Self-Determination and Colonial Powers' Resistance to Decolonization, 1945-1965

Charles Laubach, The Ohio State University

Finding an Endgame: The Clinton Administration's Policy Decisions to End the Bosnian War

John Perry, University of South Florida

The Most Dangerous Country in the Middle East: Syrian Ethnic Minorities, Anti-Colonial Nationalism, and the United States, 1945-1954

Ida Yalzadeh, Lehigh University

Localized Policing, Globalized Forces: Civilian Abuse of Iranian Foreign Nationals in the 1980s

12:00pm–1:30pm Presidential Address and Awards Luncheon

Korea and American Diplomatic History Historians

Mitchell Lerner, The Ohio State University

1:45pm–3:15pm Session V

Panel 35: The Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act: A 20th-Anniversary Retrospective

Chair: Richard Immerman, Temple University

Sarah-Jane Corke, University of New Brunswick

“A Hell of a Choice”: John Negroponte as America’s First DNI

Michael Miner, Harvard University

Nonlinear Reform: Tracing the Historical Idea of the DNI

Michael Warner, U.S. Department of Defense

Myths and Legends of the IRTPA

Comment: Janice Stein, University of Toronto

Panel 36: Roundtable: Microhistory and the “U.S. and the World”

Chair: Nora Lessersohn, Harvard University

Brooke Blower, Boston University

Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Nicole M. Phelps, University of Vermont

Stephen Tuffnell, University of Oxford

Panel 37: Globalizing Third Worldism

Sponsored by the Non-Aligned News Research Partnership (NANReP)

Chair: Vanessa Freije, University of Washington

Ryan Glauser, University of Michigan

Kéba Mbaye: Third Worldist, Neocolonialist, Neoliberal?

Stephen Westlake, Independent Scholar

Navigating NWICO at the BBC: Revisiting Britain's Relationship with UNESCO and the World Press Freedom Committee, 1976-1985

Harris Ford, University of Saskatchewan

Decolonizing News Globally: The Inter Press Service and the Third World, 1972-1984

Comment: VC, Yale University

Panel 38: Roundtable: War, Morality, and Presidential Leadership

Chair: Raymond Haberski Jr., Indiana University, Indianapolis

Zachary Jacobson, Indiana University, Indianapolis

Marc Selverstone, University of Virginia

Lauren Turek, Trinity University

Panel 39: Not Merely a "Kitchen Debate": Recognizing the Importance of Gender, Culture, and Foreign Policy in the Soviet Union before, during, and after 1959

Chair and Comment: Kathryn Statler, University of San Diego

Alexis Peri, Boston University

Hidden in Plain Sight: Finding American and Soviet Women in the Archives and in Foreign Relations

Diana Cucuz, University of Toronto

Tearing Down the Iron Curtain, One Woman at a Time: Freedom, Femininity, and Consumption at the American National Exhibition in Moscow, 1959

Thomas Ellis, University of Birmingham

Peopling Outer Space: Gender in Cold War Space Race Discourse

Panel 40: Roundtable: The Iraq Wars, 1980-2018: A Single Historical Event?

Chair: Samuel Helfont, U.S. Naval War College

Daniel Chardell, Yale University

Joseph Stieb, U.S. Naval War College

Kate Tietzen-Wisdom, U.S. Army Center for Military History

Panel 41: Hong Kong, the United States, and Uneven Geographies of the Cold War

Chair and Comment: Jeffrey Crean, Tyler Junior College

Charles Fung, Stony Brook University

Negotiating for Development: The American Factor in Cold War Hong Kong's Economic Take-Off in the 1950s

Quinton Huang, University of British Columbia

Broken Rice and Self-Help Packages: Regional Economies of Humanitarian Aid in 1950s Hong Kong and East Asia

John D. Wong, University of Hong Kong

A Spigot at the Bamboo Curtain: Migrant Control along the Hong Kong-Mainland Border, 1940s to 1980s

Panel 42: The United States and Africa

Chair: Mike Creswell, Florida State University

Lisa Namikas, Baton Rouge Community College

Security and Human Rights: U.S. Relations with Eritrea

R. Joseph Parrott, The Ohio State University

Allies of Necessity: Rhodesia and America's Radical Fringe

Manna Duah, North Carolina Central University

U.S. International Education Programs and the Evolution of a Tradition of Pan-African Student Militancy in Ethiopia, 1950-1961

Comment: Ryan M. Irwin, University at Albany, SUNY

Panel 43: SHAFR's Partnership with the Council on Foreign Relations to Survey and Rank Best and Worst U.S. Foreign Policy Decisions

3:15pm–3:40pm Refreshment Break

Sponsored by UNC Press's InterConnections series

3:40pm–5:10pm Session VI

Panel 44: Internationalism at Work

Chair and Comment: Tejasvi Nagaraja, Cornell University

Mattie C. Webb, Yale University

Black Consciousness in the Workplace: MACWUSA and Political Trade Unionism

Joshua Stern, Temple University

A Treaty of Detroit for the Americas: Apolitical Unionism and the Inter-American Industrial Relations Regime

Jordan Howell, University of Manitoba

Global Operation Dixie: Aluminum Workers in the American South and Caribbean

Panel 45: Roundtable: In and Out: Non-U.S. Specialists at SHAFR

Chair: Thomas Field, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University

VC, Yale University

Alessandro Iandolo, University College London
Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Panel 46: Gendering the Transimperial History of U.S. Wars and Occupations

Chair and Comment: Brian Goodman, Arizona State University

Justin Jackson, Bard College at Simon's Rock

Sexual Occupations: Reproducing Labor and Sovereignty between Cuba and the Philippines in the U.S. Empire of 1898

Eva Payne, University of Mississippi

French Women, United States Soldiers, and the Fight for Sexual Civilization

Jeongmin Kim, University of Manitoba

A Mundane History of the Cold War Archives: The U.S. Military's Sexual Regulations and Deregulated Sexual Markets in Korea and Japan during the Korean War

Panel 47: Anglo-American Imperial Thought and the Nineteenth-Century Mediterranean World

Chair and Comment: Nicole M. Phelps, University of Vermont

Maureen Connors Santelli, Northern Virginia Community College

"Our Common School System Is More Perfect": American Intellectual Imperialism in a Newly Independent Greece

Stacy E. Holden, Purdue University

The Mediterranean Imaginary of Edith Wharton

Andrew Priest, University of Essex

Ancient Egypt in Modern America: Amelia B. Edwards in the United States

Panel 48: Roundtable: Transnational Economics: New Horizons and Challenges

Chair: Stephen Macekura, Indiana University, Bloomington

Samuel Beroud, Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute

Sara Lorenzini, School of International Studies, University of Trento

Christian Ruth, Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute

Panel 49: Searching for International Order during the Interwar and Wartime Years

Chair and Comment: Amy L. Sayward, Middle Tennessee State University

Sarah C. Dunstan, University of Glasgow

Saving Western Civilization: PEP, UNESCO, and a Planned World Order, 1931-1950

Talbot Imlay, Université Laval

Eugene Staley, Peaceful Change, and the Origins of Economic Development during the 1930s

Peter Jackson, University of Glasgow

Woodrow Wilson and the Challenges of Power and World Order at the Paris Peace Conference

Sakiko Kaiga, Hiroshima University

The Sense of Security: The Problems of the New Order Examined at the International Studies Conference, 1934-1935

Panel 50: Extracting Labor in the U.S. Empire's Long Twentieth Century

Chair and Comment: Jason Colby, University of Victoria

Oli Charbonneau, University of Glasgow

Kamchatkan Reindeer and Mountain Houses: Globally Constituting U.S. Colonial Labor in the 1890s

Sarah Steinbock-Pratt, University of Alabama

"A Good Prison is Like a School": Industrial Education in Schools and Prisons in the Philippines

Jayita Sarkar, University of Glasgow

Uranium Rush from Colorado to Swakopmund: Labor Rights and U.S. Empire in the 1970s

Panel 51: The United States and the International Nuclear Nonproliferation Regime

Chair and Comment: Jacklyn Majnemer, London School of Economics

Katie Davis, University of Toronto

"A Matter of National Importance": U.S.-Canadian Relations and the International Control of Atomic Energy, 1945-1949

Austin R. Cooper, Purdue University

A "Further Nuclear Offer" to de Gaulle? John F. Kennedy's Interrupted Quest for French Adherence to the Partial Test Ban Treaty in 1963

Jonathan R. Hunt, U.S. Naval War College

"The Socialist Camp Loses Nothing": The Soviet Union, the Warsaw Pact, and the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons

Panel 52: Diplomacy on Draught: A Roundtable on Alcohol and the History of U.S. Foreign Relations

Chair: Ian Seavey, Yale University

Lisa Lindquist Dorr, University of Alabama

Kaete O'Connell, Yale University

Jeffrey Pilcher, University of Toronto, Scarborough

7pm Social Event: Toronto Blue Jays vs. Cleveland Guardians

SATURDAY, JUNE 15

8:00am–2:00pm Registration

8:00am–2:00pm Book Exhibit

8:00am–9:00am Breakfast

8:00am–9:00am Women in SHAFR Breakfast

9:00am–10:00am Professional Development Sessions

Session I: Peer Mentoring (Mentors and Mentees)

Sponsored by the Committee of Women in SHAFR

Moderator: Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Brooke Blower, Boston University

Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University

Chris Hulshof, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Colleen Woods, University of Maryland, College Park

Session II: The Art of Peer Review

Moderator: Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Debbie Gershenowitz, University of North Carolina Press

Petra Goedde, Temple University and Diplomatic History

Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

10:00am–10:15am Refreshment Break

Sponsored by the M.A. in Historical Studies and Asian Studies at UMBC

10:15am–11:45am Session VII

Panel 53: How to Interpret and Reform the Secrecy System

Chair and Comment: Kathryn J. McGarr, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Kaeten Mistry, University of East Anglia

Unauthorized Disclosures

Sam Lebovic, George Mason University

The Classification System

Ramya Krishnan, Knight First Amendment Institute

Prepublication Review

Panel 54: Capital across Borders: The U.S., Indigenous Nations, and Mexico in the Nineteenth Century

Sponsored by SHAFR's Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE)

Chair: Lauren Hirshberg, Regis University

Emilie Connolly, Brandeis University

American Insecurities: State Fiscal Crisis and Fiduciary Colonialism

Allison Powers Useche, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Defining Dispossession: Arbitration and the Transformation of Sovereign Debt

Emma Teitelman, McGill University

Property, Territory, and Capital Mobility across the U.S.-Mexico Border

Comment: Amy Offner, University of Pennsylvania

Panel 55: Lightning Round: America's Vision of Progress in Asia

Chair: Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Mark Tseng-Putterman, Brown University

At the Vanguard of Friendship: Chinese Americans and the Movement for U.S.-China Normalization

Masami Kimura, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies

Ideological Foundations of Postwar U.S.-Japan Relations: Democracy and Liberal Internationalism

Alexandra Southgate, Temple University

"A Labour of Love in War-Time": Quaker Aid to Vietnam, 1963-1971

Gabrielle Westcott, University of Connecticut

The Johnson Treatment: LBJ's Body, Sensory Experience, and the Vietnam War

Panel 56: New Approaches to the History of the United States in Latin America during the 1960s and 1970s

Chair and Comment: Evan McCormick, Columbia University

Thomas Field, Embry Riddle Aeronautical University

The Art of Not Intervening: Che Guevara's 1967 Uprising and Washington's Avoidance of an Andean Vietnam

Sergio Infante, Yale University

Men and Crabs: Reckoning with Economic and Demographic "Surplus" in Cold War Brazil

Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University

Turning the Tide: The Final Push to the Negotiating Table, 1977-1978

Panel 57: Roundtable: Obama as History/Obama in History: U.S. Foreign Relations, 2009-2017

Chair: Mary Dudziak, Emory University

Sally Burt, University of New South Wales, Canberra

Jason Gully, Kent State University

Benjamin Lizzy, Marquette University

Ron Pruessen, University of Toronto

Panel 58: The Generation that Never Arrived: Thinking Otherwise about the Wisconsin School of the 1950s

Chair: David Green, Cornell University

Susan A. Brewer, University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point

Lloyd C. Gardner, Rutgers University

William O. Walker III, University of Toronto

Panel 59: Roundtable: The U.S. and Palestine: Policy, Protest, and Academia

Chair: Karine Walther, Georgetown University, Qatar

Sara Awartani, University of Michigan

Alex Lubin, Pennsylvania State University

Melani McAlister, George Washington University

Alejandro Paz, University of Toronto

Doug Rossinow, Metropolitan State University

12:00pm–1:30pm Bernath Lecture Luncheon and Awards

Empire Underground: The Stakes of U.S. Claims to Vertical Power

Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

1:45pm–3:15pm Session VIII

Panel 60: Anthropocene Histories of the U.S. in the World

Chair and Comment: Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Evan Bonney, Sciences Po

Agents of the Anthropocene: Foresters and the Creation of the U.S. Environmental Management State in the Age of Empire, 1896-1914

Emma Herman, Harvard University

Properties of Empire: Environmental Histories of Law in Indian Territory and Oklahoma, 1890-1920

Colleen Lanier-Christensen, Harvard University

Trading Toxins: The Globalization of Chemical Risk at the OECD
Dante LaRiccia, Yale University
Carbon Colonization: Oil and U.S. Empire in the Era of the Anthropocene

Panel 61: Blaming the Messenger: The Role of Government Officials and Diplomats in Poor Bilateral Relationships in the Twentieth Century

Chair and Comment: Lauren Turek, Trinity University

Sally Burt, University of New South Wales, Canberra
The Personal Touch: Leaders Bypassing the Ambassadors in Sino-U.S. Diplomacy in World War II

Richard Dunley, University of New South Wales, Canberra
“A Gulf which No Words Can Bridge”: The Breakdown of Trust in Diplomatic Representatives in the Anglo-American Relationship, 1914-1917

Zachary Logsdon, Purdue University
Jekyll and Hyde of the Imperial Body Politic: American Governors and Anti-Colonial Tensions in Puerto Rico, 1918-1923

Panel 62: The World in the United States: Immigrants, Imports, and Repatriates, 1789-1919

Chair and Comment: Elizabeth O'Brien Ingleson, London School of Economics

David C. Atkinson, Purdue University
The World in the U.S.: Imports and the Development of the Modern United States

You Lan, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
“White Peril”: The Chinese Diaspora’s Response to the Accusations of Sexual Deviancy in San Francisco’s Chinatown

Andrew Bell, Oberlin College
Excavating Empire: Archaeologists and American Foreign Relations, 1879-1945

Panel 63: Roundtable: Human Rights in the Global Cold War

Chair: Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

Samuel Rogers, University of Kansas
Ryan J. Singsank, Independent Scholar
Zachary Tayler, Ohio University
Elizabeth White, University of the West of England

Panel 64: Agency, Personality, and Theater Nuclear Politics in the 1970s

Chair and Comment: Beth Fischer, University of Toronto

Andrea Chiampan, University of Toronto and Ca’ Foscari Venice
James R. Schlesinger, Henry Jackson, and the Heterogeneous Engineering of the Cruise Missile

Susan Colbourn, Duke University

Helmut Schmidt and the Dangers of a Skeptical Germany

Luke Griffith, New Mexico Junior College

Neither “Mad Dogs” nor “Reluctant Dragons”: David Aaron and the Dual-Track Decision

Panel 65: Paradox of U.S. Foreign Policy: Democratic Ideals and Authoritarian Allies

Chair and Comment: Subho Basu, McGill University

M. M. Azizul Islam Rasel, McGill University

Red Insurrection, Cold War, and the Counter-Insurgency Program in the Early Years of Pakistan: East Pakistan, c. 1947-1960

Md Niamot Ali, Florida Atlantic University

The Role of the USA in the Liberation War of Bangladesh and the 1971 Genocide: An Analysis in the Post-Cold War Era

Md Showkot Ali, University of Nebraska, Omaha

From Advocacy to Action: Senator Kennedy's Impact on Halting U.S. Arms Aid to Pakistan during the Bangladesh Liberation War

Panel 66: Travel, Technology, and National Belonging in the Transimperial World, 1865-1965

Chair: Jay Sexton, University of Missouri

Jeannette Eileen Jones, University of Nebraska, Lincoln

From New England Brahmin to Plantation Master: The Transimperial Voyages, Migration, and Life of “Dr. Wilson,” 1865-1920

Nathan Cardon, University of Birmingham

“On Wheels around the World”: Transimperial Travel before the Automobile

Nora Lessersohn, Harvard University

Man in Motion: The Ottoman Deportation, American Migration, and Soviet Vacation of an Armenian Christian Shoemaker, 1886-1963

Comment: Stephen Tuffnell, University of Oxford

Panel 67: Lightning Round: Progress as a Tool of America's Empire

Chair: Andrew Kirkendall, Texas A&M University

Andrew DeFabio, United States Military Academy

The U.S. Invasion of the Dominican Republic: From Cooperation to Conquest

Mushaid Hussain, Cornell University; and Zhe Yu Lee, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Globalizing American Social Science: Epistemic Networks and the Politics of Cold War Rural Development

Kaitlin Simpson, University of Tennessee, Knoxville

An Imported Rose Would Smell as Sweet: Colombian and U.S. Flower Growers in the Battle to Control the U.S. Cut Flower Market

Douglas Sheflin, Colorado State University
Engineering Manifest Destiny: Environment, Empire, and the Army Corps of Topographical Engineers

3:15pm–3:30pm Refreshment Break

3:30pm–5:00pm Session IX

Panel 68: The New World Information and Communications Order

Sponsored by the Non-Aligned News Research Partnership (NANReP)

Chair and Comment: Zoe LeBlanc, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Vanessa Freije, University of Washington

Outer Space Satellites and the Problem of Information Sovereignty: NWICO Debates in Latin America

Pedro Aguiar, Universidade Federal Fluminense

Decolonial before It Was Cool: Conflicting Views on Journalism through the Global South in the Non-Aligned News Agencies Pool

Sarah Nelson, Leiden University

Imagining an “Alter-Net”: UNESCO, Data Sovereignty, and the Making of an Anticolonial
Cybernetics, 1975-1985

Paul Stubbs, The Institute of Economics, Zagreb

The United Nations and the Global South in the Long 1970s: From the NIEO to NWICO

Panel 69: Space, Race, and the Global South at the U.N.

Chair: Maurice Labelle, University of Saskatchewan

Pasuth Thothaveesansuk, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

The Hall of Peace: Global Governance in Cold War Bangkok, 1946-1967

Dexter Fergie, Northwestern University

Black Diplomats, American Racism, and the U.N., 1946-1965

Siobhán Amelia Smith, European University Institute

U.N. Parameters Redefined: Southern Rhodesia as a “Non-Self-Governing Territory” in the U.N. Special Committee on Decolonization, 1962

Comment: Lydia Walker, The Ohio State University

Panel 70: Diplomacy in Cold War Asia

Chair and Comment: Grant Golub, U.S. Army War College

Pierre Asselin, San Diego State University

Art as a Weapon: Vietnamese Communist Cultural Diplomacy in the American War

Patrick Bratton, U.S. Army War College

Nehru's Man in Peking: K. M. Panikkar in China

Alex Marino, U.S. Army War College

Following Nixon to China: Angola, Zaire, and the People's Republic of China

Samantha Taylor, Air Command and Staff College and John Hopkins University

Transitioning America's Asia Foreign Policy after the Cold War

Panel 71: Roundtable: Pan-America and Pan-Americanisms

Chair: Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University

Juan Pablo Scarfi, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile

Mark Petersen, University of Dallas

Eric Rutkow, University of Central Florida

Panel 72: Roundtable: Repressing Radicals: New Directions in the Histories of the U.S. Security State

Chair: Sam Lebovic, George Mason University

Eddie Bonilla, Boston College

Charisse Burden-Stelly, Wayne State University

Katherine Bynum, Arizona State University

Panel 73: Anti-Americanism, the West, and the Global South: Cold War Perspectives

Chair and Comment: Giacomo Chiozza, American University of Sharjah

Alessandro Brogi, University of Arkansas

J. William Fulbright and the West: Reconsidering Anti-Americanism

Valentine Lomellini, University of Padua

"Bettino, the Anti-American": The U.S., Italy, and the Sigonella Crisis

Marco Gualtieri, University of Urbino

Anti-Americanism through Mass Culture: The USA and the Italian Communist Party in the 1980s: The End of Taboos

Panel 74: Nonstate Agents and U.S. Power in Transimperial Spaces

Chair and Comment: Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Darius Wainwright, University of Bristol

Showcasing America, Promoting Iran: The Smithsonian Institute and Iran, 1965-1970

Thomas M. Larkin, University of Prince Edward Island

Pious and Patriotic: Writing Turn-of-the-Century China for the American Audience

Sarah B. Snyder, American University

From Independent to Sponsored: How Overseas American Institutions Gained U.S. Support in the Early Cold War

Panel 75: Roundtable: Exploring the "Emotional Turn": Building Collaborative Efforts

Chair: Ronald W. Pruessen, University of Toronto

William McFadden, University of Toronto

Will Riddell, University of Toronto

Candace Sobers, Carleton University

Matthieu Vallieres, Independent Scholar

Panel 76: Roundtable: Reordering the Twentieth-Century Global Economy

Chair: Christopher Dietrich, Fordham University

Fritz Bartel, Texas A&M University

Nicole de Silva, Union College, New York

Elizabeth O'Brien Ingleson, London School of Economics

Marc-William Palen, University of Exeter